

Babylonian London Continues to Rage Against the Sovereignty of God

by Jeremy James

Asterism over central London – 'As above, so below'

Once of the most remarkable Psalms, from a prophetic standpoint, is #2. It opens with a question:

“Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?”
(Psalm 2:1)

The Word of God does not ask us, as believers, to consider many questions, but when it does it should be seen as a scriptural indication that the issue is of paramount importance. The Holy Spirit wants us to think carefully about it and to ponder its implications. (See the full text in Appendix A.)

The Psalm as a whole is an astonishing summation of God’s plan for mankind and its impact on human history. In essence it says:

Men will reject My authority. They will scheme against Me and reject My Son. Despite their best efforts to thwart My plan I will give humanity a world ruler, a king, who will reign forever in Jerusalem. Their pathetic attempts to oppose Me will be laughably ineffective. Anything My Son, Jesus Christ, asks of Me, I will do. He will put down all opposition to My holy will. Those who continue to oppose him will be destroyed. All men should make peace with him and all who place their trust in him will be blessed.

If the servants of Satan took this to heart, they might just come to their senses. Their dark master has tricked them, weaving unbelievable lies into their minds. Despite his spectacular stature as a created being, he is still just that – a created being. He is not a god. Neither does he possess any of the attributes of divinity. As much as he craves to stand as an equal before God, an authority in his own right, he is still a creature. Our Maker made him, just as He made each one of us:

“O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?”
(Romans 9:20)

The 'Canis Major' asterism (star pattern) that spans central London.
The nodes consist of obelisks and prominent spires.

This applies with equal force to each of the angels created by God. His will is absolute. When a creature departs from this foundational principle, like Adam and Eve in the Garden, he falls into a sin-damaged state. We are all born in sin, having a natural inclination to challenge, question, and oppose the will of God. All children of Adam possess this grave spiritual defect. Some repent of their condition and ask God to redeem them. Others, alas, exult in their alienated state and become infatuated with the greatest rebel of them all, Satan.

The spirit of Nimrod rules London

From the time of Nimrod, men have sought a world ruler whose entire being was imbued with the spiritual power and character of Satan. Satan himself put this desire into their hearts and has been using it ever since to prepare for the arrival of the Antichrist.

Since Satan is a created being, he can be in only one place at a time. We know he has a throne somewhere in the lower heavens from which he directs his army of fallen angels. Practitioners of the occult believe this location is the celestial body known as Saturn. As Christians we don't care about such matters, but we do need to take note of a statement that Jesus made concerning Satan's throne here on earth. At the time he referred to it (Revelation 2:13), he confirmed that it was located in Pergamum, a city in western Turkey close to the Aegean Sea (Its modern name is Bergama in the province of Izmir).

The surviving temple ruins of ancient Pergamum. Their size and extent reflect the importance of this center in pagan worship.

We can't say with any certainty where Satan's thronos is today, but many believe it is in one of three locations – the Vatican in Rome, the 'Square Mile' in London, or 'the district of Columbia' bordering the states of Maryland and Virginia, known as Washington D.C. All three have exerted considerable political, military and economic power for long periods on the world stage and all three enjoy complete independence from the sovereign authority exercised by their respective host nations – Italy, England, and the USA.

If Satan's seat is situated in an area surrounded by occult symbolism and esoteric iconography, then London emerges as the strongest of the three candidate locations.

In our earlier paper, #56, we set out a detailed analysis of the monuments and other topographical features found across metropolitan London. The allusions to Osirian mythology and the pantheon of Egyptian deities, as well as the Astrological worldview of ancient Babylon, were so strong that we concluded that the city was intended to serve as the modern counterpart of Heliopolis, the Egyptian ‘City of the Sun’. It is also known as On or, in Hebrew, Beth-Shemesh.

John Todd (Lance Collins) was a high-ranking member of the Illuminati until he was born again in Christ in 1972. He gave a number of talks to Christian groups explaining how the Illuminati worked and what they were trying to achieve. Here is a comment he made about London:

“I only took orders from the Rothschild Tribunal in London. They claim they get their orders directly from Lucifer, which is why they live there. Someone asked me if the Rothschilds live in California. Not those associated with the Tribunal; they do not leave England. Some live in France, but they always come to England, because they believe that's where Lucifer is most fluent, and he can speak to them more personally than anywhere else.”

– John Todd, transcript of Tape #1 ‘The Occult’

This will help to explain why London has played such a prominent role in shaping the modern world. The sun-centered, materialistic model of the universe was imposed on all nations by the Christ-hating elite who rule London. So too was a ball-shaped earth, a tiny speck spinning in the dark depths of ‘outer space’, an ever-expanding black vacuum that reached to infinity. The gurus in London also dreamt up particle physics and the notion that the atom could be “smashed”, that everything we see and touch is really nothing but a bunch of infinitesimally small particles ‘rotating’ at colossal speeds. Gravity, the false notion that matter attracts matter, was another lie developed in London and foisted upon the world. And then came the dinosaurs! The so-called experts at the British Museum got the world to believe that the earth was covered with giant lizards for 180 million years. This was designed by them to supplement another lie, the bogus notion that the earth is millions, if not billions, of years old.

The London elite have two major goals in mind

In all of these instances the elite in London had two major goals in mind, to undermine trust in the veracity of the Bible and to portray the wonderful work of Creation as the inexplicable outcome of countless existential accidents and random events. The seal on this grotesque deception was another lie devised by the elite in London, the absurd parlor game known as 'Evolution', which maintained that man evolved from a simian ancestor.

The Babylonians believe in the occult principle, As above, so below. They try to make their base on earth a reflection of the heavens. London is covered with monuments that have been ritually dedicated according to this principle.

It is incredible to realize that a great many intelligent people believed (and still believe!) the nonsense called 'Evolution'. The longer the lies were allowed to run, with no serious challenge from Christian leaders, the more powerful they became. Each generation slipped further into the illusory 'cosmos' devised by these liars. And the entire charade was concocted in the same place, the heart of London, with some assistance from their Masonic colleagues in France, Germany and the Netherlands.

London was also the worldwide center of Freemasonry, a Luciferian cult which rejected the deity of Christ and taught men to believe that the world had always existed. This obviated the need to account for creation. All they required was a divine overseer, the 'Great Architect of the Universe', to maintain the harmony of the cosmos.

The ruling elite in London then exported this highly secretive cult to all corners of the Empire and, in due course, to every country on earth (There were over 500 Masonic lodges on the island of Ireland in 1900). They did this in tandem with another sinister innovation, the so-called 'central bank'. This was a private institution owned and controlled by the elite which masqueraded as an impartial broker in financial matters. This enabled the rich and powerful to channel liquidity and credit to whomever they chose and withhold it from those they wanted to ruin.

The first central bank in the world was The Bank of England, founded in 1694. The first centralized governing body of Freemasonry was the Grand Lodge of England, founded in 1717. Thus London was the center where Satan planted the poisonous hydra that would grow exponentially and take control of the entire earth.

Satan's thronos

It would seem reasonable to conclude from this that, by the start of the 18th century, he had located his thronos in London. Given the extensive program of deception, perversion and moral corruption that emanated from that city over the succeeding centuries, it is very likely that it is still located in London, with ancillary offices, as it were, in the Vatican and the District of Columbia (The name Columbia is a reference to the goddess known variously as Ishtar or Isis, while 'Vatican' is derived from vaticanus or vates, meaning a pagan sybil or witch).

Nimrod's Bow

Our earlier paper (#56) was called Babylonian London, Nimrod, and the Secret War Against God.

The 'secret war' mentioned in its title is the one described in Psalm 2 – “Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?”

The rebels appear to have set up their world headquarters in London and are co-ordinating their various programs from that location. As with similar administrative structures, they probably divide the world into regions, with one department liaising with their agents in Russia, another liaising with China, and so on, thereby ensuring that their plan for imposing a 'new world order' unfolds exactly as they intend. This means that countries which appear to be 'rogue', such as N Korea or Iran, are all part of the same team and take their instructions from London.

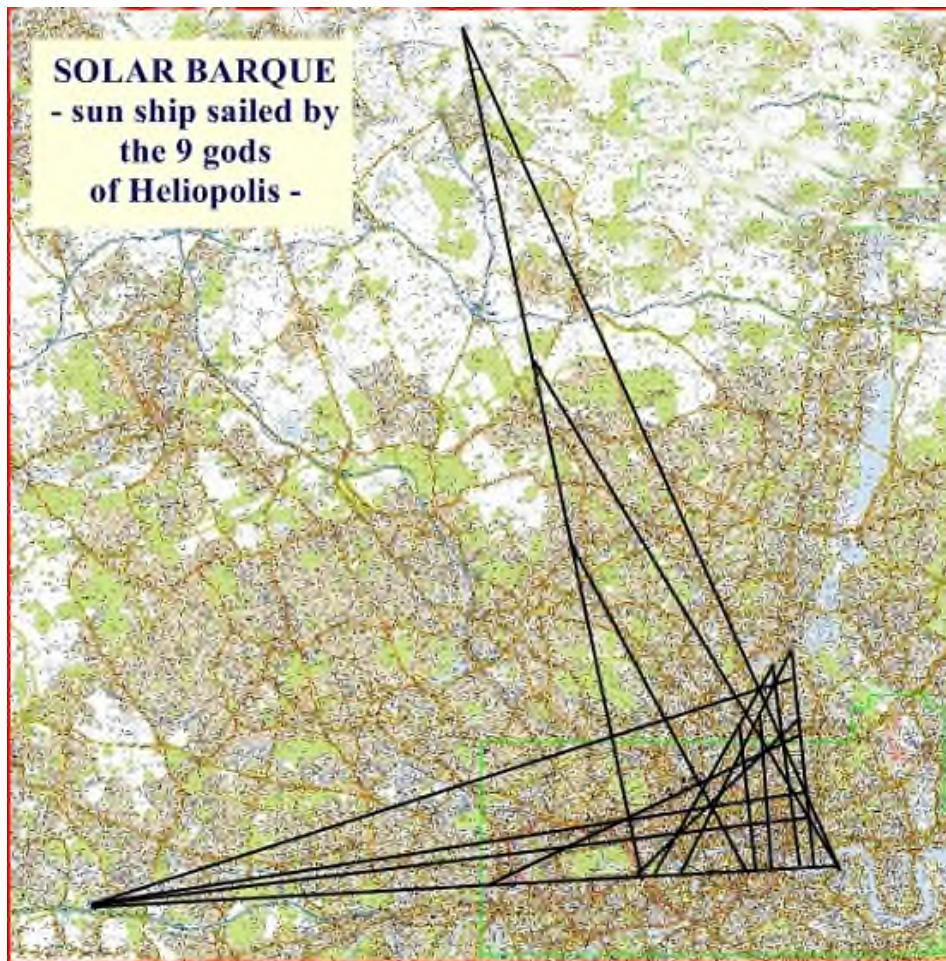

The rebels do not intend to reveal their hand until the Antichrist has been installed. Their numbers are small, relative to the population of the world as a whole, and they don't want to risk provoking a mass awakening. Now and then they like to give a modest demonstration of their existence and their power, partly it would seem to stroke their ego and partly to test the depth of unawareness or gullibility among the sleeping masses.

After World War Two, the London headquarters – which we will simply call ‘London’ – made extensive preparations to impose a more effective system of social control on the general population. This included a program of demoralization whereby the pre-war mindset and social conventions, which were based largely on a Biblical worldview, would be thoroughly roughed up and eventually overthrown. These included the Murder (Abolition of the Death Penalty) Act 1965, the decriminalization of homosexuality under the Sexual Offences Act 1967, and the termination of unborn children under the Abortion Act 1967.

These remarkable changes in legal provisions that had stood for hundreds of years were brought about with little public opposition. The introduction of rebel music by the Tavistock Institute, which created a ‘good rebels’ rock group known as The Beatles in 1960 and a ‘bad rebels’ rock group known as The Rolling Stones in 1962, had a very disorienting effect on the public’s perception of right and wrong. They were being constantly reminded via this new brand of music and its provocative lyrics that “the times they are a changing”. The public was tricked into believing that there was something inevitable about this process and that it would be futile to oppose it.

The British public did not say ‘Yes’ to these changes; rather it failed to say ‘No’. This proved to be the formula for implementing similar changes in other countries. The formula included the promise of promiscuous sex and drug-induced euphoria, the kind of inducements that normally break down resistance wherever they are used.

Freemasonry reveres the gods of Ancient Egypt. The esoteric iconography of London includes a massive 'Solar Barque' whose constituent lines are formed from nine designated Asherim or sacred monuments.

The ongoing program of demoralization

This program of demoralization has been running continuously since its inception in the late 1950s. The chief targets are Europe and North America. As the citizens of these nations gradually surrender their ability to oppose this rampant decay, the pace of change accelerates. We were given a horrifying demonstration of this in recent weeks when the UK became the first country in modern history to decriminalize, in principle, the murder of a full-term baby.

On 17 June, after a debate that lasted less than an hour, the House of Commons voted by 379 votes to 137 to approve in law the 'abortion' of an unborn child up to the moment of birth. The brutal act of infanticide, which has for centuries been regarded as the defining trait of a depraved society, is being allowed to pass into law. It only remains for the upper house, the House of Lords, to approve the Bill before it receives the Royal Assent.

After years of perverse claims about a woman's "reproductive rights", on which grounds unconditional abortion up to 24 weeks of gestation had been legalized, the Masonic lawmakers in Westminster decided to dispense entirely with this legal fiction and simply allow a woman, at any time and for any reason, to kill her unborn child. We are no longer speaking about "reproductive rights" or anything of that nature, but denying entirely the intrinsic humanity of an unborn child, even at the moment of his or her birth.

We have here a horrifying example of the Babylonian belief that the state alone, the supreme ruler in the land, has the moral authority to decide who lives and who dies. All rights are bestowed by the state. The individual exists only to serve the state, and his or her utility – on the basis of which such rights are bestowed – is determined solely by the state. The Spartans in ancient Greece left deformed or weakling newborns to die of exposure since their future utility as hoplites, footsoldiers in the service of the state, was deemed derisory.

Origin of the name 'London'
Excerpt from Chapter 19 of Babylonian London,
Nimrod, and the Secret War Against God.

Given the importance that the Babylonians attach to names and symbols, it would be surprising if the name London did not itself contain a special esoteric significance.

Consider, in this regard, the following excerpt from the Wikipedia entry on 'Asherah':

"Asherah is identified as the consort of the Sumerian god Anu and Ugaritic El, the oldest deities of their respective pantheons. This role gave her a similarly high rank in the Ugaritic pantheon. The name Dione, which like 'Elat' means "Goddess", is clearly associated with Asherah in the Phoenician History of Sanchuniathon, because the same common epithet ('Elat') of "the Goddess par excellence" was used to describe her at Ugarit."

This seemingly innocuous information contains the key to the name London. Note the deities mentioned: El, the highest male god and Dione, the goddess par excellence. If we associate these with On, the City of the Sun, we get El On Dione or London.

Also, in Greek mythology, Dion was a mortal who, like the Babylonians of London, built a temple to a god.

London is the modern equivalent of On or Beth-shemesh, the City of the Sun. It is the place where the Egyptian and Babylonian equivalents of the highest god, El, and his consort, Dione, are exalted.

It is obvious from this that the “right to life” of an infant immediately after birth is just as precarious as the non-existent right to life that it enjoyed just minutes before he or she was born. An article published by the British Medical Journal in 2013 shows that the establishment was willing to permit this Satanic argument to be made in a recognized professional journal 12 years ago – see box below. Look at where it has led!

Featured article

After-birth abortion: why should the baby live?

Alberto Giubilini¹, Francesca Minerva²

Correspondence to Dr Francesca Minerva, CAPPE, University of Melbourne, Melbourne, VIC 3010, Australia; francesca.minerva@unimelb.edu.au

PDF +
Supplementary Material

Abstract

Abortion is largely accepted even for reasons that do not have anything to do with the fetus' health. By showing that (1) both fetuses and newborns do not have the same moral status as actual persons, (2) the fact that both are potential persons is morally irrelevant and (3) adoption is not always in the best interest of actual people, the authors argue that what we call 'after-birth abortion' (killing a newborn) should be permissible in all the cases where abortion is, including cases where the newborn is not disabled.

<https://doi.org/10.1136/medethics-2011-100411>

Article published by the BMJ in its Journal of Medical Ethics, 2013.

London, as custodian of the new morality, is telling the world that the state must now assert its right to decide who lives and who dies. We can expect other countries to follow suit, just as they did when they followed the example set by London in the 1960s by legalizing abortion and homosexuality and abolishing the death penalty.

‘Tragic cases’ are used to undermine just laws

The strategy for removing just and equitable laws is fairly simple. Just create a few “tragic cases” and then persuade a gullible public that such “tragedies” could be avoided by changing the law. So we are likely to be told of unfortunate women who, in the 38th week of their pregnancy, want to exercise their “right” to terminate (kill) their unborn child but are unable to do so without third-party assistance. Caring members of the public will then lobby to “protect” this woman’s alleged right and demand that the law be amended so that the local GP is mandatorily required to come to her home and execute the child on her behalf. Presumably the birth would be allowed to take place to facilitate the execution without harming the mother. Such “post-partum abortions” would then become commonplace.

This is the world we are now living in. Satanism is being legalized. The young witches of England, who normally sacrifice their first child, will now be able to do so under 'Reproductive Health' legislation.

We hope our readers can grasp the monstrous nature of the change that is about to take place under British law. Infanticide will become a "woman's right". The same "right" will then find its way, in some form, into the UN's Universal Declaration of Human Rights. It may not even be necessary to make a formal change to the text of the Declaration but simply to interpret its current provisions more broadly. All countries will then come under pressure to recognize this right in domestic law.

This is how the dreaded "new morality", the morality of Babylon, is being spread across the face of the earth. London is leading the way once again.

CONCLUSION

The LORD destroyed the whole world in the Flood when murder and violence became endemic. We are now at the same stage in our downward spiral, where the mind and heart of man is fixed continually in opposition to God's law, a vile condition which the Bible described as follows:

"And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." (Genesis 6:5)

This descent into Satanism, where the state alone decides who lives and who dies, is being catalyzed by the planned introduction of "assisted dying" in the UK. Once again the "tragic cases" are being highlighted to convince the public that existing legal protections are untenable and everyone should have a "right" to choose the time and circumstances of their own death.

If there are "rights" in any of this, it is the right to do what is most pleasing to Satan.

The gang of Satanic pedophiles who control our modern democracies are not going to stop until they have completely subverted everything that the LORD God has given us for our benefit:

“...this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD:” (Isaiah 30:9)

Will our pastors and preachers raise their voices? We have not heard a peep out of them for decades, so it's very unlikely that the so-called Christian church will take a stand against this fresh wave of wickedness. They will very likely continue to excuse their silence by elevating “tolerance” and “diversity” and “inclusiveness” to the level of Christian virtues – which they are not!! – and finding a thousand ways to disguise, dilute, and reinterpret the Ten Commandments.

There will be exceptions, thank goodness, but the vast majority will continue to do what they have been doing for a very long time – absolutely nothing.

Jeremy James Ireland
June 25, 2025

To Download and Search ALL Papers on this Website

To download all papers on this website, 426 to date, visit our Dropbox archive at:

<https://www.dropbox.com/sh/v7xpl2l1s9k55h3/AAC4WwyoAdAU8jse-efEMwDna?dl=0>

To search for keywords in any part of our archive (over 8,400 pages) download the free word-search app, Agent Ransack, at:

<https://www.mythicsoft.com/agentransack/download/>

For further information visit www.zephaniah.eu

Copyright Jeremy James 2025

APPENDIX A

Psalm 2

- [1] Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?
- [2] The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,
- [3] Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.
- [4] He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.
- [5] Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.
- [6] Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.
- [7] I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son;
this day have I begotten thee.
- [8] Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.
- [9] Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron;
thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.
- [10] Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.
- [11] Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.
- [12] Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.