

The Author of Confusion

by Jeremy James

Recent 'Woke' ad by British car manufacturer, Jaguar.

As Christians we are assured that the LORD in His righteousness is not an author of confusion. No doubt there are times when we are confused, but this arises from our inability to understand what we ought to do. Thankfully, the LORD has provided a means to address this, namely to turn to Him for guidance and direction, to pray for understanding, and to lean on Him when events threaten to overwhelm us.

If it is allowed to escalate, confusion leads to instability and then to disorder. And if this is allowed to continue we may be walking into chaos.

The more we immerse ourselves in God's Word, the less likely we are to be confused by anything:

“Through thy precepts I get understanding:
therefore I hate every false way.”
(Psalm 119:104)

The Enemy thrives on confusion and tries to promote it wherever possible. It is well known that practitioners of witchcraft like to attend Christian services and become accepted members of the local fellowship. Then, in subtle ways, they cause division. Gossip, rumors, innuendo, and mischievous whispers are used to foster confusion and create discord. No one seems to know how it started or where it is leading. Meanwhile the author works undetected behind a mask of fake humility and phony concern.

Saturnalia

The ancient Romans, who were steeped in paganism, had an annual feast in honor of the god Saturn. Such god-honoring feasts were designed to highlight a characteristic aspect of the deity concerned. Saturn was the god most closely identified with the being we call Satan. Thus it is interesting to note that the attribute they celebrated in the Feast of Saturnalia was disorder and chaos.

During this time, which lasted seven days, the social order was turned upside down. Slaves told their masters what to do. Gambling and drunkenness were rife and men often dressed as women, and vice versa. A 'King of Saturnalia' was appointed by the common people to rule over the festivities and usurp the role of the upper class, mocking his social superiors and issuing insults to whomever he chose. The Romans saw Saturnalia as a temporary restoration of a supposed 'Golden Age' when the world was ruled by Saturn.

'Woke'

We can see in their behavior an extreme manifestation of the attitude which today we call Woke. The word itself comes from African-American slang, meaning an awareness of social injustice. It was hijacked by the Marxists in America to denote a social convention which might be said to discriminate against a minority group. In doing so they redefined "equity" and "fairness" in highly subjective terms, to the point where a person's emotional response to a situation was deemed to be a material factor when deciding whether or not his treatment was just. An applicant who failed to get a job could claim that he possessed a characteristic which was not shared by the other applicants and that this placed him at a personal disadvantage.

Woke is a perverse philosophy which turns non-prizewinners into victims. It refuses to accept the notion of objective merit because, its advocates claim, merit itself is defined by those in authority. Woke is therefore a way to challenge authority and to overturn practices which society as a whole has long accepted as normal. Woke rejects what Western society has for centuries called Common Law – the accumulated wisdom of actual judicial rulings and precedents which both shape and reflect the moral and ethical norms within society. As such they have established a robust standard of fairness and equity for all its members.

What does Woke offer in its place? Nothing but opinions. Without any historical legacy or body of precedents, it is forced to improvise, usually by seeking a consensus among an aggrieved and disaffected minority. They may complain that the privileged majority had ignored their ‘rights’ for far too long and that their treatment to date has been neither fair nor equitable. In this way vocal minorities, financed secretly by political agitators, can lobby tirelessly for laws which cater exclusively to their wishes, with no regard to the impact they will have on society as a whole. The same political agitators can also bribe the media to give their ‘clients’ a sympathetic hearing.

Woke is old-fashioned anarchy in a pin-striped suit

There is nothing clever about Woke. It is old-fashioned anarchy disguised as a new social movement, where well-organized groups of dissidents – funded in secret by the architects of the New World Order – conspire together to convince the public that society has, concealed in its midst, isolated individuals and groups whose real needs have been unfairly neglected. The time has now come to recognize these needs and rectify the wrongs inflicted on these unfortunate ‘victims’.

Woke is a Marxist trick, the manipulation of public perception, mainly via the media, to convince the average person that traditional social practices are full of defects and that a radical new approach to social organization is needed. Alas, the proponents of Woke are able to get results because the average person is slow to test or challenge the constant stream of innuendo, hyperbole and false reporting that Woke uses to push its agenda. As a result, many kinds of behaviors are being normalized which, only a generation ago, were widely viewed as unnatural or harmful – or both.

Turning absurdities into normality

The notion that two men can get “married” is absurd, but most of the population today have come to accept it as the ‘new normal’. It never occurs to them that this radical redefinition of marriage inflicts great harm on traditional marital relationships, where a man and a woman come together in a natural biological union that is intended to last a lifetime, producing and raising the next generation.

In Ireland in 2015 a large segment of the public thought it would be a kindness to share the institution of marriage with homosexual ‘couples’. They were deceived. In voting as they did they foolishly destroyed the traditional institution of marriage and replaced it with a counterfeit.

A few months later the government quietly passed a law which enabled a man or woman over the age of 18 to change their legal gender. The sinister way this was done is stark evidence that Woke is a strategy which is being directed from a high political level. By pretending to care about the welfare of a very small number of unstable people, the government took an axe and smashed the immutable biological distinction between a man and a woman, a distinction that underpins the very foundation of our social order.

An Irish voter heads to the polling station.

By doing this the ruling regime inflicted great harm of two institutions that are vital to the continuity and well-being of our society. In a fundamental sense they undermined the integrity and security of both the marital relationship and the family unit. The health of both is predicated on natural and biological factors which cannot be overridden or disregarded by an act of will.

The belief that human will can affect reality in a metaphysical sense is central to occult philosophy. Practitioners of Kabbalah believe our thoughts shape reality. Woke is an insane application of this unbiblical doctrine, where simple minds are gulled into believing that the physical world can be reconfigured by our human imagination. It takes an unusually obtuse society to think that an act of parliament can turn a man into a woman!

The government made no attempt to play down or disguise its Luciferian agenda when, in late 2023, it ordered a referendum on an amendment to the Constitution which would redefine marriage as “a durable relationship”. This obscenity was too much. Even our semi-conscious, browbeaten electorate could see that their leaders were deceiving them. The trenchant national rejection of this Woke proposal made the government realize that they had gone too far.

Government gaslighting

The real purpose of Woke is to undermine traditional Christian morality.

It is in many respects an exercise in gaslighting, where those in authority – namely the government – and those who purport to protect our social order – namely the media and opinion-forming institutions – pretend to have found a more enlightened way of managing our society. They deliberately ignore the reality that everyone else accepts and behave instead as though the public was pressing them to make these irrational legal changes.

All adverse opinions are suppressed by the media and ‘open’ debate where it exists is heavily manipulated. Unable to understand exactly what’s happening, or why, the average person follows the crowd. He or she doesn’t realize that the “crowd” was a fiction contrived by the media, that nine people out of ten would never even have considered what the government was trying to introduce.

This is a technique derived from mass psychology. A product or idea is promoted in various ways, endorsed by celebrities and respected public figures, and treated as though it had proven scientific credentials. According to its supporters, this remarkable innovation offers many benefits and costs next to nothing. And a foolish public, unable to see how they are being manipulated, go ahead and “buy” this new product.

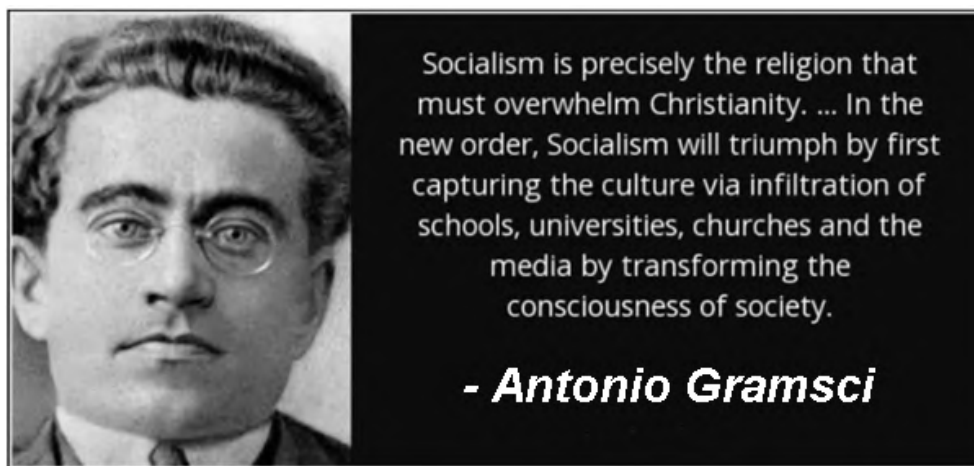

That’s how the government got the Irish to approve the murder of unborn children in 2018. The implied justification was nonsensical but expressed in the magical language of Woke it went like this: “If a pregnant woman wants to keep the fetus until birth, then she has an unborn baby in her womb; however, if she doesn’t want to keep the fetus until birth, she has a bundle of superfluous cells in her womb and is morally entitled to destroy it – it’s her choice.”

This perverse attitude is grounded in the occult doctrine that truth is relative and man himself can decide what is morally acceptable in a given context. The Kabbalah teaches that our thoughts shape reality, therefore how we perceive a situation defines the reality behind it. There is no objective truth, only will, choice and perception.

The Frankfurt School and Cultural Marxism

The lie of 'Woke' was given its modern form by the Frankfurt School in Germany in the 1930s (and later at Columbia University in the US), and the Tavistock Institute in London in the 1950s. It is part of the Illuminati system of mind control. If a central authority can get the masses to doubt the existence of objective truth, they will be more likely to believe whatever unscrupulous ideas they are given in the media.

Woke is a branch of what is often called Cultural Marxism, a blend of psychology, psychiatry, and Marxist ideology. One of its main authors was Antonio Gramsci, an Italian Communist. Gramsci spelled out its goal as follows:

Virtually all of the founders and leaders of the Frankfurt School were Jewish communists. They despised Christianity and came up with many cunning and subversive strategies to infiltrate and destroy it. The ranks of these vile Luciferian schemers included:

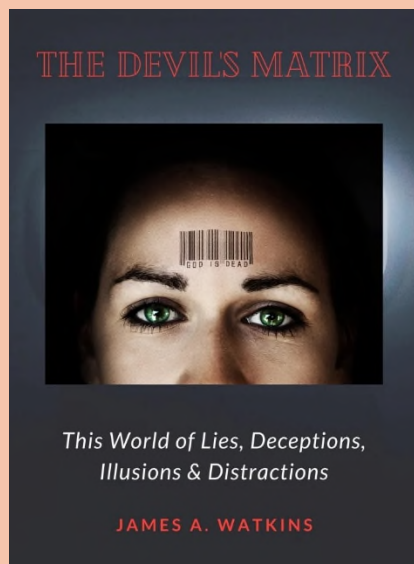

- Max Horkheimer (1895–1973)
- Theodor W. Adorno (1903–1969)
- Herbert Marcuse (1898–1979)
- Walter Benjamin (1892–1940)
- Erich Fromm (1900–1980)
- Leo Löwenthal (1900–1993)
- Franz Neumann (1900–1954)
- Friedrich Pollock (1894–1970)
- Georg Lukacs (1885-1971)
- Kurt Lewin (1890-1947)
- Wilhelm Reich (1897-1957)
- Jürgen Habermas (1929 -).

For many decades it has been next to impossible to expose these men and their wicked ideas without running the risk of being labelled an Antisemite. The Frankfurt School was really a branch of the Synagogue of Satan, to which Jesus referred in the Book of Revelation: “I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan” (Revelation 2:9).

“The result of the Long March of Cultural Marxism is a generation of people who have no guard-rails, no standards of right and wrong. This leads to moral anarchy. All they have to guide them are their feelings. The media readily manipulates such people. Marketing is the application of the knowledge of human psychology to the task of persuasion... to sway them emotionally.

“The New Left now calls its believers ‘progressives.’ They long for a world with less and less European people, no traditional families, and no religion. They promote degeneracy, ugliness, and false history. Progressivism is societal rot; it eats away at the foundations of society until it falls in on itself.”

– James Watkins, The Devil’s Matrix, 2020

The real purpose of Feminism

The first systematic trial of this subversive approach on a large scale was the movement known as Feminism. It was designed to question the Biblical foundation for gender distinctions, the marital bond, motherhood, and the role of women in society. Feminism was also a very effective staging ground for launching attacks on masculinity, authority, the family, and even society itself.

The public was told over and over to believe that, by working in the home and raising a family, a woman was being exploited by the so-called patriarchal society. If she is really to achieve her full potential she must throw off this yoke of bondage and prove that she could be just as competent in a masculine environment. She was told she “could have it all”, a home and a career. She should not allow herself to be imprisoned in the home and used like a slave.

In subtle ways women were taught to resent men, to question the validity of marriage, and to seek fulfilment outside the home. Children, in turn, were to be portrayed as an encumbrance. This hardly seemed possible initially, but the explosion of divorce across society has proven beyond doubt that children have been disenfranchised by feminism. Despite the calamitous impact of divorce on a child, the mother is made to feel that it is worth inflicting this trauma on her children in order to “find herself”, to become “liberated”. In former times many troubled marriages survived because both parents loved their family dearly and were prepared to sacrifice some of their own happiness for the well-being of their children. But feminism mocked that sacred duty.

This is the kind of insanity that Woke promotes.

Mockery

Mockery is an important part of Woke. Anyone who questions the new morality is treated as an outsider, a person who lives in the past and refuses to accept that times are changing, that society needs to be more ‘compassionate’ and more tolerant of diversity. The agents of change understand, not only the power of ridicule, but the persuasive force exerted by the mere threat of ridicule.

The mainstream media adds to this coercive atmosphere by quietly denouncing the Bible as an artefact of a bygone age, a book of rules which may have been appropriate for a primitive society in the “pre-scientific” era but hardly a reliable guide in our modern world.

Woke as a road to mass insanity

As we have shown, the dynamics behind Woke were well understood in the 1960s by the powers that be. They switched into a higher gear in the 1980s when the public was slowly persuaded that sodomy was a lifestyle choice. The public warms to a word like “choice”. It sounds healthy. If homosexual behavior could be described as a lifestyle choice, then it may not be as bad as we thought. After all, no-one gets hurt (seemingly) and people with this “orientation” (another weasel word in the Woke lexicon) will be much happier if their “unconventional” lifestyle is normalized.

In some of our previous papers, in particular #289, we discussed how society is being gradually conditioned to think irrationally. Even when people have the information they need to make the right decision, they will choose the wrong course without knowing why. It takes a while to explain why this is the case, but for readers who wish to explore this topic further, we recommend our paper, The Fourth Phase of Mass Insanity.

The public acceptance of sodomy was advanced by turning the homosexual “community” into a group to be pitied. Public sympathy for “gays” (another weasel word) was induced by the HIV/AIDS hoax. Hundreds of thousands of sexually confused men were murdered by the medical system by tricking them into believing they had a fatal disease (HIV) and would die a horrible death (AIDS) unless they immediately underwent a special course of treatment. The “treatment” required the patient to take a daily dose of a known poison called AZT, a powerful drug used to treat cancer. The victims were now on permanent chemotherapy and all died within three years. (We describe how this terrible crime was committed in our paper #220: The Real Story of HIV: The Deadly Virus that Never Dies.)

One of the leading figures in the HIV/AIDS hoax – murder incorporated – was a certain Dr Fauci. He and his team had devised a way to murder large numbers of people by convincing them that they were about to die a horrible death from a previously unknown virus unless they took a toxic brew devised by the medical experts. The Covid hoax was a re-run of this wicked scheme, but directed at a much wider audience.

The AIDS ‘epidemic’ won immense public sympathy for the homosexual community and helped greatly to weaken resistance to the normalization of sodomy. We can see today just how successful this psychological operation has been. Homosexual ‘couples’ can now get legally married and adopt children. The public even ignores the existence worldwide of apps like Tinder and Grindr. Tinder, which is supposed to be a dating app, is used by millions in 150 countries to arrange once-off sexual encounters. Many homosexuals use it for this purpose. Grindr is an even more licentious app, aimed more directly at the LGBT “community”.

Woke aims to “queer” children

‘Woke’ is now being used to indoctrinate schoolchildren with the “queering” ideology of LGBT. Those who devised this perverse educational program boast that their goal is the “queering of children.” The government expects a child today to question his or her gender, to choose their ‘preferred’ gender, and to form romantic attachments with members of their own gender. Children are also expected to have a knowledge of a wide range of disordered sexual behavior, including terms and practices which until now were discussed only in pornographic or adult literature. In short, our Woke government is promoting a national educational program which is certain to expose children to perverted and misguided ideas about sexuality, to encourage inappropriate or premature sexual behavior, and even to question their own sexual and emotional identity.

What kind of government would do this? A Marxist government of course, a group of duplicitous political leaders who take their orders from the international cabal of Luciferians who are pursuing similar goals in other western nations, all with a view to undermining and destroying Christianity.

The government is laying a snare

Woke is a tool to plunge society into a permanent state of Saturnalia, where traditional and conservative values and norms are mocked and ridiculed, where disaffected minorities impose their will on society as a whole, and where anyone who dares to question this process of moral emasculation is slandered in the media and even threatened with penalties under the law.

It is now an offense in some countries to use the wrong pronoun when referring to a person who has supposedly “changed” his gender. A stiff fine can be imposed on someone who refers to this individual as “him” rather than “her”. It is just as the Bible foretold:

“That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.” (Isaiah 29:21)

Anyone who uses the ‘wrong’ pronoun is at risk of being “an offender for a word” and punished accordingly. Isaiah also states that the government will “lay a snare” for anyone who dares to challenge what they are doing! This is exactly what is happening.

Woke is legalized evil

The Psalmist condemns a government that dares to legalize evil in this way:

“Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law? They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.” (Psalm 94:20-21)

When a government enshrines murder and moral depravity in law, it is legislating on behalf of Satan, “the throne of iniquity”.

Satan wants to gain control over your children.

This statue is in the Satanic Temple in Detroit. The inclusion of two little children is evidence of a diabolical plan.

The Irish government is doing this, along with governments in most countries formerly viewed as ‘Christian’. Alas, our pastors and elders sit tamely in a corner and naively pretend that their political leaders ‘care’ about society. Perhaps they are misguided in their zeal for moral change, they reason, but they are on the side of the people. No, they are not! They are very obviously working to unravel the fabric of society, to advance a perverse agenda which is intensely hostile to Christian morality and the righteousness prescribed in the Word of God.

If our church elders cannot see this and speak against it, it’s because they are Christian in name only. The lukewarm Laodicean church is steeped in hypocrisy, skilled only in the art of excusing its own inadequacies. Most of its members lack the backbone to challenge the new morality, to denounce the “Woke” mentality for what it is, namely a sickening Luciferian scheme designed to clear a path for the Antichrist.

Imaginary “hate crimes”

For the past two years or more, the Irish government has been planning to legislate against what it calls hate crimes, the expression or dissemination of views that certain minority groups may consider offensive. The hate in question would be imputed under the law, even if it didn’t exist in fact and no evidence of its presence was provided. If a complaint is made, law enforcement will be empowered to enter the ‘offender’s’ home without a warrant and seize his or her computer, files and other material.

We are glad to report that this totalitarian statute has been put on hold for the time being. It seems there are still a few conscientious individuals in Ireland who are prepared to raise their voices when the political establishment threatens to ban free speech and criminalize innocent people.

“Enter not into the path of the wicked... For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.”

- Proverbs 4:14-16

Cultivating a mindset susceptible to Woke indoctrination

The public is being indoctrinated with the Woke mentality in various ways. These include two blatantly obvious trends on television which everyone can see but few appear willing (or able!) to discuss.

The first is the widespread use of mixed-race or interracial couples in television commercials. This was unknown up to a few years ago but is now being used to advance the Cabal’s miscegenation agenda. There has always been a small, and socially harmonious, incidence of interracial marriage in Europe but these ads are now indoctrinating the masses to believe that such relationships ought to be a standard feature of western society. This is all part of the Woke attack on European “white” people, an attack that is well under way in the US.

If all marriages were mixed-race, then the white race would disappear. And this is what the globalist Cabal wants to see, a world where the attitudes and values traditionally espoused by people of European origin are eliminated. As racial or ethnic groups interbreed, they lose much of their cultural identity and are easier to control. This is why the ultra-rich Davos gang are ‘programming’ the public to perceive a marked increase in interracial relationships as a welcome social development.

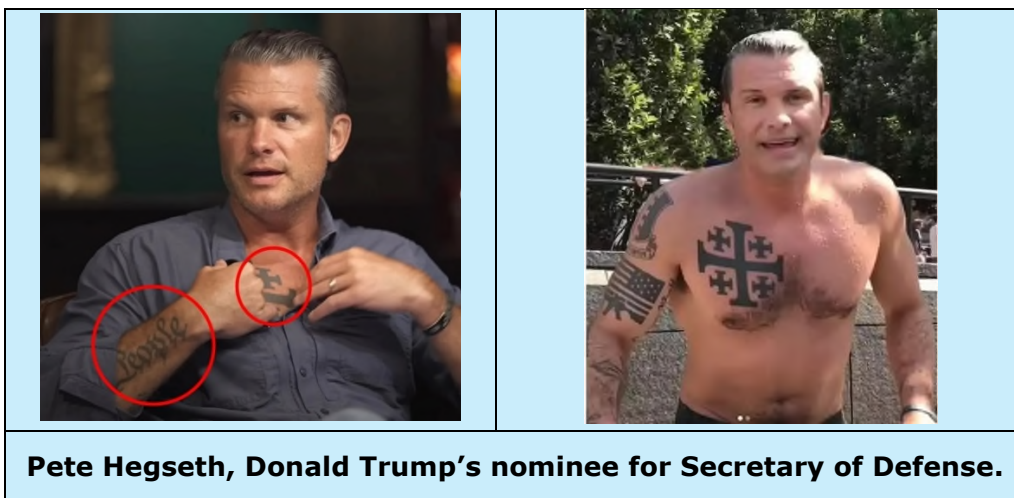

When God introduced a diversity of languages during the construction of the Tower of Babel, He did so in order to create a diversity of nations. Independent, self-governing ethnic groups are part of His plan. The ‘melting pot’ idea, on the other hand, is designed by those who oppose it. They are using miscegenation – reproduction between people of different ethnic groups, especially where one of them is white – as a way of making nations unmanageable and forging a world government from the ensuing confusion.

This ad is a sign of how Saturnalian the world has become. The viewer is shown what appears to be a black man and a white woman in the bedroom. Unknown to the viewer, however, the ‘woman’ is a transgender.

Another method of Woke indoctrination, the wearing of tattoos by leading sports personalities, has become extremely prevalent in recent years. Most televised football matches in the UK feature players with extensive tattoos – see some extreme examples below. Celebrities of every hue also like to show off their tattoos to the paparazzi. These include musicians, actors and television personalities.

A child who grows up believing that tattoos are harmless bodily adornments will be far more likely to acquire one or more as an adult. As Christians we know we are not to defile our flesh in this way, but non-believers appear to have no understanding of the spiritual implications of body marks. Tattoos are a permanent expression of rebellion. The mantra of those who receive them is strangely similar to that of radical feminists: ‘My body, my choice.’

Many tattoo parlors are run by occultists. They see a connection between tattoos and magick – and they are right. They know that entities are attracted by these rebellious images. The parlor owners are also known to cast a spell on their tattoo needles, inviting spirit entities to enter with the ink into the recipient’s body. This explains why many tattoo bearers keep returning for more.

The Enemy has a deep strategic purpose behind all of this. Fidelity to the Antichrist, when he comes, will be expressed officially and revealed to others through a mark of some kind, either on one’s arm or on one’s forehead. He wants to make ‘body art’ more socially acceptable so that, when the time comes, the Man of Sin can move forward rapidly with his plan to enslave mankind and lead millions to perdition.

We must be very clear about this: Anyone who takes his mark is lost forever.

CONCLUSION

The program of indoctrination known as Woke is highly insidious. It was designed by generational servants of Satan, the master of confusion.

By planting small seeds of rebellion in the minds of weak and susceptible people, the Enemy is preparing the ground for greater acts of subversion further down the road. Woke creates confusion, and confused people are much more likely to follow the herd. They are less confident in their ability to navigate through uncharted territory – where up is down and down is up, where men are women and women are men – and therefore lean heavily on a seemingly friendly authority to guide them. This opens the door to the government and the media, as well as bogus experts and so-called scientists, who are more than willing to take center stage and run the show.

The architects of Woke hate Christianity, and if they hate Christianity then they hate you. We cannot afford to compromise with their ‘little’ lies. Before long, bigger lies will come rolling in our direction. Will we still keep silent?

Woke is part of the unfruitful works of darkness. It is our task as true believers to avoid any fellowship or compromise with these lies. Rather it is our duty to reprove them, to expose them for what they are.

Pastors, preachers and church elders who fail to do this are not neutral bystanders, as they like to think, but active supporters of the Woke mentality. Woke thrives on the silence of its victims, and a church that remains silent while Woke is stalking our streets, seeking whom it may devour, is not a true church at all but an empty shell.

Earlier we quoted a verse from Psalm 119. We would now like to draw attention to the second part of the verse in question (v.104), where the Psalmist tells us that he hates every false way:

“Through thy precepts I get understanding:
therefore I hate every false way.”
(Psalm 119:104)

If the Word of God describes a righteous man in these terms, then we too should hate every false way. This requires that we open our mouths and speak God’s truth – without fear or compromise.
