

The Lone Gunman – Part II

by Jeremy James

THE Atlantic online The Atlantic Monthly | Digital Edition

Home
Current Issue
Archive
Forum
Site Guide
Feedback
Subscribe
Search

January 1993

Colonel Dunlap's Coup

A fictionalized essay that has been circulating within the Pentagon offers a blunt warning on several fronts.

by Thomas E. Ricks

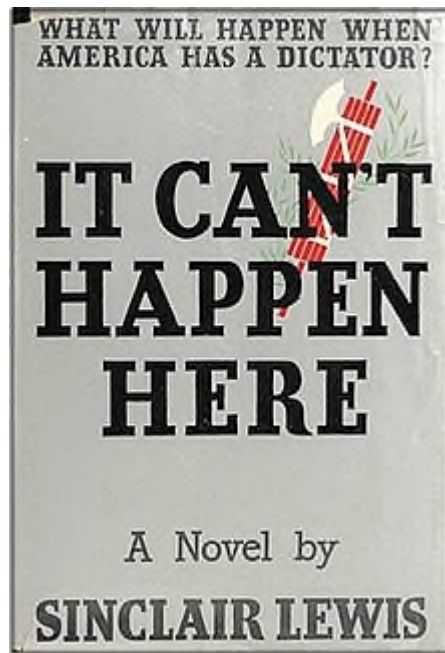

It is the year 2012. The American military has carried out a successful coup d'etat. Jailed and awaiting execution for resistance to the coup, a retired military officer writes to an old comrade, explaining how the coup came about.

Browse >>
Books & Critics
Fiction
Food
Foreign Affairs
Language
Poetry Pages
Politics & Society
Science & Technology
Travel & Pursuits

In 2016 we published a paper under the title How a Lone Gunman could Trigger a Constitutional Crisis in the US (#109). Subsequent events, which we will discuss shortly, confirm that this part of the Illuminati strategy is still on track.

We also published, in 2017, a paper (The Next Choreographed War [#141]) which included, as an Appendix, a copy of the award-winning military paper by Lieutenant Colonel Charles Dunlap titled Origins of the American Military Coup of 2012, a fictional account of the fall of the United States.

The Dunlap paper, which was published in 1992, described how a Constitutional crisis involving the office of the President of the United States led to the rise of a military dictatorship. The author describes how the American electorate actually welcomed the coup. They even voted its leader, General Brutus, into the Presidential Office and granted him exceptional powers of temporary duration. These were intended to enable him to deal with the “Deep State” and “drain the swamp” (These expressions did not appear in Dunlap’s paper but they accurately encapsulate the purpose of the special powers granted to Brutus.) As soon as Brutus acquired these powers he proceeded to round up and execute everyone who opposed him. The Constitution was abolished, along with Capitol Hill, State legislatures and the Supreme Court. Democracy in the US was at an end. In its place Brutus installed a brutal regime no different from the military dictatorships found in many third world countries.

Published in 1935.

Some 90 years after this novel was written the proportion of the American public who believe that "it can't happen here" has fallen dramatically.

The Illuminati Plan to install a "strong man"

The Dunlap paper reflected, whether accidentally or by design, the Illuminati plan to abolish the façade of democracy in the US and place it firmly under open authoritarian rule. They want to do this by the consent of the people, even if that consent is obtained by devious means. What better way to enslave a nation than to have it bestow absolute power on one individual in a Constitutionally approved election? This would transfer to a "strong man" the legal authority he needs to dismantle the only institutions and structures that could remove him from office. By the time the electorate realized that they had been duped, it would be too late.

The Illuminati like "strong man" solutions. Ultimately they want to bring the entire world under the absolute authority of one, all-powerful "strong man", someone whose word is law and whose legal reach is unlimited. The Bible calls this man the Antichrist.

The US entered the first phase of its Constitutional crisis in May 2016. Here is how we put it in our paper #165:

When President Obama issued his famous transgender bathroom decree on May 13, 2016 – which required all federally funded schools to allow any student who identified as transgender to use the bathroom of his/her choice – it became painfully obvious that the Elite were now moving their program of gender perversion into high gear. With one tyrannical edict, a revolutionary new policy was imposed on the nation's schools. Any school that failed to comply would risk losing federal funds.

How many commentators saw this for what it was, a stunning violation of the individual's Constitutional rights? May 13, 2016 marked the start of a subversive program to undermine the integrity of the American legal system by abusing the authority granted to the President under the Constitution. The violation in this instance was so absurd that the vast majority had no idea how to oppose it. Once the President is allowed to make decisions based on alleged 'human rights' and declines to reveal how his actions are warranted under the Constitution, the passage of further arbitrary decrees of this kind is inevitable.

Further phases in the attack on Constitutional integrity

Over the following years we have seen "open border" policies from President Biden that are so outrageous they beggar belief. We also saw how the Office of the President has been used to endorse – and effectively enforce – an experimental medical intervention which affected the entire nation. President Trump allowed his office to be used as a mouthpiece for the pharmaceutical industry, providing longwinded eulogies for its products on prime time television. He also imposed a Communist-style lockdown on the American people and obliged them to submit to his personal "warp speed" interpretation of sound medical practise.

Over the past year the office of President has been subjected to further ridicule by its incumbent and his administration. As far as the public is concerned, Biden is an old man suffering from advanced cognitive impairment. They cannot see that his many gaffes and blunders are carefully choreographed by his handlers to demoralize the American public, to convince them that there is no-one at the helm and that their country's leadership is being made a laughing stock on the world stage.

This is all by design. It is all part of a seditious demoralization process. The Elite are using Biden and his gaffes to bring the office of President into disrepute and to make it seem that a "strong man" is now needed to run America. The media are carrying more and more headlines claiming that the traditional system of governance is no longer workable and that a completely new approach is required.

The Biden double

It is our considered opinion that Biden's phased deterioration, along with his incrementally worsening gaffes, is of such importance that an old man could not be trusted to "perform" his subversive role correctly and that a stand-in is being used instead. Latex facial technology is now so convincing that an actor with a talent for playing aged characters could carry it off quite easily. The person formerly known as Senator Joe Biden may not even be alive. (Remember the occasion when Biden tripped three times while climbing the steps to his plane? The public took this as proof that he was getting too old to hold public office. But did they not notice how quickly he jumped up after each fall? An old man couldn't have done that. The guy on the steps was a double.)

The average American will find it hard to believe that a double may be playing the role of the President. Unfortunately the same "average American" also believes that Michael Robinson was the "woman" called Michelle who was "married" to President Obama. If a young man can play the role of First Lady for eight years, without using a latex prosthesis, then a young man in a latex mask can pretend to be the President.

<https://rumble.com/v55cuxo-leaked-docs-show-michelle-obama-listed-as-male-on-2024-voter-forms.html>

The alleged attempt to assassinate Trump

This brings us to the latest episode in the scripted saga, the alleged attempt to assassinate Donald Trump at a campaign rally in Pennsylvania on 13 July 2024. We could go over the incident in great detail and point to numerous inconsistencies in the official narrative, but we will confine our statement to a few salient points.

Let's start with the official narrative: We are asked to believe that the Secret Service team assigned to protect him before, during and after his speech was either incompetent or complicit in the attempt; that the shooter was allowed to pick a choice location from which to target his intended victim; that Trump happened to look away as the first shot was fired and, purely by chance, avoided the bullet that would otherwise have caused his head to explode; that the shot nicked his right ear and caused blood to pour out; and that he showed great composure only moments after someone had tried to take his life. In short, he was lucky to be alive and, by virtue of his defiant fist-pumping gesture immediately after the attempt, he actually enhanced his credibility as a leader and a fighter.

HyperFlesh* face mask of Jeff Bezos.

The hoax summarized

The following points shatter the official narrative. To begin, the first shots that were heard all came from the Secret Service detail on a rooftop near the Trump podium. They were firing, not at Trump, but at the shooter. The shooter did not fire a single shot. The victims in the audience who suffered gunshot wounds were not shot by the supposed shooter but by another party. These victims reinforced the public perception that someone was shooting at Trump. When Trump stooped below the podium he was still exposed to bullets fired from a high-velocity rifle – the podium offered no protection. He then got up before he could possibly have known that the danger had passed, that the shooter had been killed, and that no other shooters were involved. His Secret Service team made only token efforts to shield him. The alleged injury to his ear, which should have bled profusely, barely left a blood mark on the side of his head and no mark anywhere else. He didn't even have blood on his right hand after he took it down from his ear. As he later said, he felt the bullet impacting on his right ear “really, really hard.” When his Secret Service detail tried to remove him from the scene he insisted several times on retrieving his shoes. Anyone who thinks of his shoes just moments after an assassin has tried to blow his head off – and while he was still in the line of fire! – is simply following a script.

Realistic latex face mask of Donald Trump, made in October 2017 [per The Denver Post]

He knew he was in no danger whatever, that the whole episode was a sham devised to enhance his reputation as a strong leader. Furthermore, if his political enemies were serious about removing him, they would hardly have hired a child – a 20-year old with zero experience of conflict of any kind – to carry out the deed. Also, given the many rumors that Trump could become the victim of an assassination attempt (whether by a lone gunman or a wider conspiracy), the most sensible expedient – the introduction of a bulletproof perspex screen around the podium – was not even considered. If the most lowly bank teller can be given such protection, it is inconceivable that a genuine political target should be perched on high with no cover whatever.

The whole idea is laughable. We would hasten to point out that several “truther” websites are treating the attempted assassination as genuine, despite the ludicrous inconsistencies in the official story. This is proof that the program to gull the American people with Illuminati theatre embraces a very wide circle of players. Some of the most respected and influential online commentators – the “good guys” – are playing for the other side.

Polarization of the American electorate

Where is all of this leading? What we have seen over the past eight years or so is a gradual polarization of the American electorate. Each camp is being trained to believe that the other is a threat to democracy and the ‘American’ way of life.

The tension between the two is being increased by incidents designed to promote greater national anxiety, whether a failed ‘assassination’ attempt on one side or jaw-dropping moments of crass stupidity on the other. All of these engineered events serve to weaken popular belief in the integrity and durability of the existing political system and to clear a path for a “strong man” who will restore normality. The public is being slowly conditioned to believe that this is the only solution. [For a taste of this conditioning process, see Appendix A.]

The stage is being set for some real shocks

If this is to work, then the public must be subjected to a series of shocks which cause their anxiety levels to increase dramatically. These could range from a financial crisis, a terrorist attack, the assassination of public figures, cyber attacks on key infrastructure, largescale power failures, a mass poisoning event, a major health scare, or a military or industrial disaster of some kind. We referred also in a previous paper (#380) to the possible use of earthquake-generating technology to create what the public will construe as a natural disaster.

The enemy has always used fear and uncertainty to spook the herd and drive them in whatever direction they want. The extraordinary influence of mass media now enables the Elite to foster fear and uncertainty among different target groups using different stories and narratives, all tailored to fit the psychological disposition of their respective group. In a sense the “fear and uncertainty” is being fine-tuned and distributed to where it will cause the greatest degree of passivity and compliance.

The masterminds behind this psychological manipulation are able to keep the narrative moving at a confusing and uncomfortable pace. The public is never given a chance to pause and reflect, to test the many assertions made by the ‘experts’ and to see who exactly is being truthful and who isn’t. This is made even more effective by increasing the number of players entering and leaving the stage. The average person, holding down one or two jobs and struggling to make ends meet, has neither the time nor the energy to process all of this information. He craves simple, black-and-white answers and is likely to support anyone who claims to provide them.

The invasion of America by millions of illegal migrants will greatly dilute the sense of national preservation that will be needed to contest the direction being set by the Elite. The danger they pose as potential sources of civil unrest is very real. So too is the role they could play in performing tasks on behalf of the government, such as manning detention centers or enforcing curfews, which most patriotic Americans would refuse to do.

Putin warned Ukraine's Western allies against providing air bases in their countries from where the F-16s could launch sorties against the Kremlin's forces. Those bases would become a "legitimate target," he said.

"F-16s are capable of carrying nuclear weapons, and we will also need to take that into account while organizing our combat operations," Putin added.

www.defensenews.com, 28 March 2024

The Biden regime is working with its international counterparts to create a New World Order. Towards this end it will continue to provoke Russia and spark a major confrontation with NATO. The provision of F16 jet fighters to strike targets within Russia is a very grave development. The resulting conflict could quickly spread across Europe and force America (along with several other countries) to switch to a war-time economy. It is hardly necessary to discuss how catastrophic this could be. The immense interlinkages between national economies is many times greater today than it was before World War II. As a result the economic impact on the civilian population of a third world war will be very much greater.

There is no doubt that China will exploit this opportunity to seize Taiwan and, in the process, terminate the flow of products and components that are essential to many American industries and commercial services.

CONCLUSION

The American people, not to mention most Europeans, have little or no idea what their Deep State leaders have planned for them. It is very hard to grasp the magnitude of the evil behind all that they are doing. It is very likely that most of the Christians who can see what is coming are able to do so only because the Word of God explains it all so clearly.

A firm foundation in Bible prophecy is essential if we are to understand what lies ahead.

Before I was saved I used to wonder how the world could possibly shift from the moral condition outlined in the Gospels and Epistles to the horrifying scenario depicted in the Book of Revelation. There seemed to be an impassable – or impossible – gap between the Epistle of Jude and John's depiction of the End Time.

This great evil seemed to appear from nowhere. God tells us that the world will seem fairly normal on the day the Tribulation begins, just as it did in the days of Lot: “they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded” (Luke 17:28). The wall that stood for so long will continue to seem secure. Only those who step back and take a good look at it will see that it is, in reality, poised to fall. And when it does, it will come thundering down with awful suddenness:

“Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.” (Isaiah 30:13)

“Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.” (Isaiah 47:11)

The evil that will cause the wall to fall has been working away in silence for centuries. The process was so gradual that hardly anyone noticed. Men had reasoned that, if it existed at all, the power of evil would only succeed in knocking out a brick here and a brick there. If that happened the righteous would notice and intervene. But men had failed to see that the power of evil was directing most of its attention, not at the wall, but at its foundation. That was their strategy all along. They knew that if the foundation could be undermined, the entire wall would collapse:

“If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?” (Psalm 11:3)

“They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course.” (Psalm 82:5)

This is where we are today.

Men have greatly underestimated the evil in their midst.

May God bless us all.

---

Jeremy James Ireland
July 19, 2024

APPENDIX A

Screenshot from David Cloud's newsletter, 19 July 2024

TRUMP ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT Friday Church News Notes, July 19, 2024, www.wayoflife.org fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Donald Trump survived an attempt on his life on July 13 at a political rally in western Pennsylvania. The well-aimed deadly head shot only pierced Trump's ear when he moved his head at the very moment that the bullet reached him. I wept in gratitude for Trump's survival. We have often prayed for his safety and for his salvation. An attempt on Trump's life was almost inevitable in light of the hatred that has permeated large parts of American society, driven by the lies and false narratives that have been shouted from social media housetops. I can love Trump and want the best for him, and I can appreciate his warrior spirit, even while recognizing the truth of everything we said about him in last week's Friday News. We pray that this event will result in the toning down of some of the dangerous left-wing demonization. It seems to have had that effect temporarily to some extent. By God's mercy, America escaped an event that would have had massive and terrible consequences.

- SPECIAL REQUEST -

Time is running out...

Regular readers are encouraged to download the papers on this website for safekeeping and future reference. They may not always be available.

For an easy way to download all papers (over 390), please email me.

We are rapidly moving into an era where material of this kind may be obtained only via email. Ireland is on the brink of introducing a draconian censorship law which will shut down sites like this and could result in penalties such as confiscation of property, financial fines and imprisonment for up to five years.

Readers who wish to be included on a future mailing list are welcome to contact me at the following address:-

jeremypauljames@gmail.com

For further information visit www.zephaniah.eu

Copyright Jeremy James 2024